WHETHER YOU WANT TO LAZILY LOUNGE BY THE SHORES OF LAKE GARDA OR FANCY A HISTORY-MEETS-GLAMOUR MINI-BREAK IN VENICE, ITALY HAS IT ALL

JK Place, Capri

GO THERE FOR: BREATHTAKING VIEWS

Welcome to your super-luxe home-from-home! But the one where you get to overlook Capri's stunning Marina Grande from whatever room you might be looking stylish in at the time. Perhaps you'll be sipping an Aperol Spritz on the wrap-around terrace, munching your way through the vast locally sourced breakfast in the dining room, enjoying a Bellini in the library, or cosying up on a mattress bed for two next to the giant pool. Wherever you are, there is always that view, neatly framed by the rising and winding streets of Capri town, practically begging to be explored. The interiors are understated chic at its very best. Chrome, dark wood, whites, greys and blues dominate the decor downstairs while bedrooms are a palette of cream, white and black, with the star of the show being your canopied bed.

Service is about as efficient as it gets with general manager Simone Giorgi orchestrating every element of your visit with the kind of speed and perfection of which you can only dream.

During your stay it is absolutely essential to reserve a table at the nearby Da Paolino (The Lemon Tree) for an unforgettable outdoor dinner under a ceiling of lemon trees. The quality of the food on offer is sensational – a whole room is reserved for the dessert buffet – and everything, from baked aubergine and mozzarella to the seafood, is as fresh and moreish as you could possibly imagine. Then enjoy the softly lit walk back to the hotel for one more look at that view.

● A double room costs from £410; jkcapri.com

Romantic, decadent and super-luxe –
the Gallery Suite
Volterrano has it all

Four Seasons, Florence

GO THERE FOR: ROMANTIC DECADENCE

When we say this is 'a room with a view', we're not talking about the one from the window; when you open your eyes in the morning, it's to the sight of a ceiling adorned with Rococo frescoes. Housed in a 5th-century palazzo where nobles including a Medici pope once lived, the Royal Suite's centrepiece is a vaulted gallery (the entire suite is a dizzying 2,518sq ft) featuring an original ceramic floor and comfy sofas to laze about on. And if you love a lose-yourself-in-here bathroom then the Gallery Suite Volterrano, all panelled ceilings and stunning frescos, is the perfect choice. Such is its gorgeousness, you'll have to drag each other outside to explore.

A 15-minute stroll away is the Piazza del Duomo with the awe-inspiring sight of Florence Cathedral. Wander the cobbled streets before trying pistachio ice cream from a gelateria on the way. Be sure to save room for dinner; not only does the hotel have the Michelin-starred Il Palagio restaurant, but the chef can arrange a table on a terrace just big enough for two on the picturesque Ponte Vecchio overlooking the River Arno. For sheer, unadulterated romance, this honeymoon has it all.

● A Superior Room costs from £230 a night, while the Della Gherardesca Royal Suite starts at £12,985 a night; fourseasons.com/florence →
